THIRD TERMERS AND DEWEYITES ARE VICTORIOUS

Run Well Ahead in New York and Wisconsin
Voting Tuesday

Election News

Wisconsin—President Roosevelt held nearly 3 to 1 lead over Vice President Garner; Republican delegates pledged to Thomas E. Dewey ran well ahead of those backing Senator Arthur Vandenberg.

New York—Garner forces lost to Democratic organization candidates in the only four contested districts; Dewey delegates won only Republican contest affecting his candidacy.

Kansas City—Fusion forces ended Pendergast organization's control of city government by electing mayor and seven of eight councilmen.

Milwaukee—Socialist mayor Daniel W. Hoan, in office since 1916, defeated by Carl F. Zeidler, 52-year-old lawyer.

By The Associated Press

President Roosevelt and Thomas E. Dewey emerged today as easy victors in Wisconsin's presidential primaries, but the complicated balloting system may cut into their slates of national convention delegates.

Followers of the two men also won the only contests for district delegates in New York.

Roosevelt, still silent on the third term issue, led Vice President Garner by nearly a 3 to 1 ratio in the Wisconsin preferential voting on the Democratic ticket.

On the Republican ballot, delegates-at-large pledged to District Attorney Dewey of New York ran about 2 to 1 ahead the ticket supporting Senator Arthur Vandenberg of Michigan.

Wisconsin, which has 24 votes in each national convention, provided the first direct test of third term sentiment at the polls. Although the president did not give up without his consent, two rival Roosevelt slates were entered.

Consequently, the vote for third term delegates was split, raising the possibility that in final returns one or more Garner delegates might slip into the group.

See Wisconsin Battleground

Republicans polled a much larger proportion of the vote than they did four years ago, leading politicians to forecast that Wisconsin would be a November battleground.

Dewey was the only presidential contender to visit the state. He made a whirlwind tour late last week, while Vandenberg, indicating a belief that the nomination should seek the man, limited himself to a radio speech from Washington.

The two Republicans will fight it out again next Tuesday in Nebraska, where Roosevelt is unopposed. On the same day, Roosevelt and Garner forces will contest in Illinois. Dewey has no opposition in that state's Republican primary, but the vote is not binding.

Yesterday's contests in New York applied only to a fraction of the big bloc of delegates. Garner forces made an unsuccessful challenge in four New York City districts, losing to Democratic organization candidates by ratios extending from 2 to 1 to 5 to 1.

New Dealers Win

Their principal effort was for the election of Alfred E. Smith, Jr., and State Senator John McNaboe in the 16th district, but Rep. James H. Fay, an active new

Showers Fail to Aid Forest Fire Fighters Today

Benton, Ill., April 3—(AP)—A light sprinkling of rain this morning failed to aid materially in quelling forest and grass fires which have swept over nearly 12,000 acres within a fifty-mile radius of here.

With dry grass and underbrush carrying the flames over wide areas in five counties, more than 600 men worked last night to bring the blazes under control.

Fires were burning in Perry, Hamilton, Washington, Franklin and White counties and Assistant Conservation Director Anton J. Tomasek said that thousands of acres of newly planted reforestation projects were threatened by the flames.

Tomasek said that Civilian Conservation Corps youths working to check the flames numbered 175. WPA labor, paid for by the state division of forestry, was also pressed into service and there were many volunteer fire fighters.

The assistant conservation director issued a plea to residents of the forested downstate areas to be extremely careful with fire and called the forest fire hazard the "most serious" since 1938. He said the fires were caused by careless disposal of matches and cigarettes and by farmers burning off their fields.

MAKE IT A REAL CENSUS

The last federal census, taken in 1930, failed to give Dixon its full quota of residents and kept this city just under the 10,000 mark. The Telegraph hopes that the 1940 census, now under way, will be sufficiently thorough to give Dixon more accurate count.

Care and diligence on the part of the enumerators and full co-operation on the part of residents should take care of the situation. Before the census is completed the census bureau should broadcast a request for all residents who have not been interviewed to make themselves known. No doubt they are planning on such procedure. The Telegraph will be glad to cooperate in any way that will insure a full and complete census report.

NO REPUBLICAN TICKET—YET

If a political worker comes to you and says his candidate is the choice of the Republican party or has the endorsement of the Republican organization just ask him why we are holding a primary election next week.

At the present time the Republican party has no chosen or endorsed candidate for any office. After April 9th there will be a complete ticket, officially nominated by the whole Republican party and then, and only then, can any candidate claim to be the party's choice or to be the choice of any regular party organization. Any claims to the contrary by a candidate or his workers are false and an insult to the intelligence of the voter.

SENATOR BAKER SHOULD WIN

Ogle county has a candidate for the state Senate who should for all means be re-nominated and elected. Senator Charles Baker of Davis Junction.

Senator Baker has a long and splendid record in the Illinois legislature and Illinois needs more men like him in politics. Senator Baker is a candidate for re-election in the Rockford district.

SUPPORT FRANK WILSON

Another outstanding candidate for office is Frank Wilson of Woosung, just across the Lee-Ogle county line. Mr. Wilson has been a valuable member of the legislature and would be now if the count hadn't been mixed up somehow. He is a candidate at this April primary for the lower house at Springfield and he should be nominated and elected.

Accident in 1791 Influenced Split in Party Lines in Campaign of 1796

Washington, April 3—(AP)—

President picking:

An accident in 1791 had something to do with drawing the political lines which established John Adams and Thomas Jefferson as the outstanding candidates for president in 1796.

The first copies of Thomas Paine's "Rights of Man" arrived in Philadelphia in 1791. Jefferson read the book, which had been loaned him by a friend, and returned it with a note expressing his satisfaction that such a valuable work was to be reprinted in America.

"Something is at length to be publicly said against the political heresies which have sprung up among us," he wrote.

Jefferson never intended for the note to be printed. But the printer used it as a preface. And John Adams had just been writing his "Discourses on Davila," a series of political articles which to some degree disclosed that Adams was not fully satisfied with the Constitution.

For the 24 hours ending at 7 a.m. today: maximum temperature 64, minimum 47; part cloudy; precipitation .2 inches, total for April to date .32 inches, total for year to date 6.14 inches.

Thursday: sun rises at 5:40, sets at 6:27.

CONGRESS' PLANS FOR ECONOMY IN GROWING DANGER

Thrown Further Out of Joint by Action of Committee Today

Washington, April 3—(AP)—Senate appropriations sub-committee threw congressional economy plans further out of joint today by unexpectedly adding $25,000,000 for rivers and harbors projects to an appropriation bill for civil functions of the war department.

The reorganization of a sound militant Republican organization in Illinois will depend largely upon the choice of the voters in the gubernatorial primary. For years the Republican party in the state has been disorganized and its leadership has been in dispute. The Better Government Association believes that much of the old leadership, particularly in the city of Chicago, must be rooted out if the Republican voters are again to have confidence in their party.

Previously the committee had placed in the bill $45,000,000 in funds rejected previously by the House.

Chairman Thomas (D-Oklahoma) said today's $25,000,000 addition was approved by a 5 to 4 vote and virtually completed the sub-committee's work on the measure before turning it over to the full committee, probably tomorrow. The sub-committee earlier in the week had added $30,000,000 for flood control work and $15,000,000 for a third set of Panama canal locks.

If the Senate approves today's $25,000,000 increase, Thomas said, funds will be made available to start work on about 50 new rivers and harbors projects, chief of which would be improvement of the Missouri river from Kansas City to Sioux City, Iowa, at a cost of $4,000,000.

The sub-committee's latest increase raised the tentative total of the civil functions bill $70,000,000 above the House-approved appropriation of $203,472,567. This compared with budget estimates of $220,082,250.

Army Funds Trimmed

The House appropriations committee, source of most of the session's economy moves, continued its efforts meanwhile to hold down federal spending in the fiscal year beginning July 1 by reporting to the House an army appropriations bill $67,357,660 below President Roosevelt's recommendations. The measure totaled $785,999,094.

The committee also cut $42-$40,500 from the $87,780,500 in contractual authority asked for the war department's military functions.

In the Senate, Senator Davis (R-Pa.) offered legislation for establishment of a congressional budget service to draft annual spending estimates for Congress.

Davis' bill would place the service under control of a joint committee composed of members of the Senate and House appropriations committees. He said the agency would draft an annual budget, which would be compared with the budget submitted by the committee.

The Senate itself continued debate on a bill continuing the administration's reciprocal trade program for three years. Senator LaFollette (Prog-Wis.) proposed that public hearings be required

A Special Message to W. H. Ware Customers About Electric Refrigerator Prices

SOMETHING IMPORTANT has happened in the electric refrigeration industry — you may have noticed that the advertised prices on 1940 electric refrigerators are substantially lower than last year's prices—and this in the face of rising costs of materials.

But did you know that ONE manufacturer — was responsible for this major change? Here's how it happened:

TWENTY-SIX YEARS ago Kelvinator PIONEERED the electric refrigeration industry—played a major part in reducing the price of refrigerators by more than two-thirds.

NOW KELVINATOR has taken three significant steps that have created an entirely new standard for refrigerator prices:

1 In talking to thousands of housewives, Kelvinator found that practically all of them would prefer larger, roomier refrigerators—six or eight cubic feet—if they could afford them.

So, Kelvinator concentrated 96% of its entire manufacturing capacity upon these two big sizes. This resulted in substantial savings.

2 Kelvinator recognized that the time was past when the IDEA of electric refrigeration needed to be sold to the consuming public—by the usual methods which necessitated high distribution costs.

Therefore, Kelvinator found a way of lessening the cost of getting the refrigerators from the factory to the home. This resulted in further savings.

3 As a result of the above two savings, Kelvinator, with the courage of its convictions, planned in 1940 to double the number of refrigerators it would normally produce. This made possible a third big saving through tremendously increased volume production.

In other words, by eliminating uneconomical models and sizes, by cutting the cost of selling, and by taking full advantage of the economies of quantity production, Kelvinator has been able to establish an entirely new standard of value. At $114.75 for a big six cubic foot refrigerator you save $30 compared with last year's prices, and on other 6 and 8 cubic foot models in the line, savings are even greater—more in fact, than you would believe possible.

GEORGE WASHINGTON SAID:

"Excessive partiality for one foreign nation and excessive dislike of another cause those whom they actuate to see danger only on one side, and serve to veil and even second the arts of influence on the other. Real patriots who may resist the intrigues of the favorite are liable to become suspected and odious, while its tools and dupes usurp the applause and confidence of the people to surrender their interests." From the Farewell Address.

The Buy On-and-Off Quinns

—Chicago Daily News, March 29, 1940

The Better Government Association, in its recommendations for ward committeemen, asks the purge of five so-called Republican committeemen who are notorious for bipartisan alliances with the Democratic machine. In order of listing, the five are:

1. Paul Rothenberg, of the 24th ward—home of Democratic Boss Jake Arvey, of overwhelming Democratic majorities, and of the city's most scandalous vote frauds.

2. Dan Serritella of Chicago's 1st ward—first in name, and first in vote frauds until eclipsed by the 24th. Serritella, former pal of Al Capone, and more recently operator of one of the gambling syndicate's scratch sheets, was "elected" to the state Senate as a Republican, because the Democrats put up no candidate against him, despite the fact that the ward regularly delivers vast majorities for the Kelly-Nash-Arvey machine.

3. Alderman William Pacelli, 20th ward—the Kelly-Nash machine graciously declined to support a candidate against him at the last election.

4. State Representative William Finucane of the 11th ward—another "Republican" who votes in the legislature in accord with the orders of the machine.

5. Casimir Gorny of the 32d ward. According to affidavits in possession of the Better Government Association, Gorny instructed precinct workers in his organization to work for Kelly's re-election in the 1939 mayoral campaign.

These precious quintuplets are key men in the political strategems of the machine, whereby the Democrats engage in their ancient trick of participating in Republican primaries, and sabotage the efforts of genuine Republicans to nominate candidates worthy of the confidence of the voters. In this campaign, as in the past, the quintuplets are for the weaker candidates in the Republican primary—notably Richard Lyons. The machine knows that if Dwight Green is nominated he will be elected in November. The machine's only hope is to kill off Green in the primary, through the treachery of those who call themselves Republicans but who jump at the machine's bidding.

Those who believe in representative government and in the party system will heed the warning of the Better Government Association, and cast their votes against the double-crossing quinns.

Something Should Be Done About This

If we compare the efficiency of government with the efficiency of automobile manufacturers over the period of a quarter of a century, the honors go to the automobile makers.

For automobiles are infinitely better than they were twenty-five years ago, while government blunders along in the same old way. The only thing we can be sure of, in connection with government, is that we shall continue to pay more than it should cost; and in all probability, if the present regime is continued in power it will continue to cost more. Of the automobile business we may feel assured that cars will continue to be improved, and if it is possible for the manufacturers to do so, they will reduce prices.

The primary business of government is to protect the citizens from invasion from abroad and violence at home, and to undertake those enterprises, such as the building of roads, carrying the mails, the administration of justice and the furtherance of education, which can not be undertaken by private capital. We venture to suggest that in these things government has not improved in proportion to the increase in costs.

Automobile makers, however, can today provide automobiles that in safety, comfort, speed, durability and economy of operation, are beyond the dreams of the early manufacturers. And today's cheapest cars are superior to the most expensive ones of twenty or twenty-five years ago.

Costs of government have arisen for the same reason that the prices of automobiles have been reduced. In the case of government, the tax takers are catering to those who want more and more, and to minorities who are not thinking of the best interests of the people as a whole.

Automobile makers also are catering to the demands of those who want more and more. The manufacturers are thinking primarily of the best interests of their clients, while treasury-raising statesmen are thinking too often of election day.

Let Consumers Look Around

Just to drive out some of the vague and even antagonistic ideas consumers may have about manufacturing processes and the value of the goods they buy, it has been proposed by the Des Moines (Ia.) Chamber of Commerce that factory-owners set aside a week sometime soon to throw open their doors to the general public. The plan is being considered by the United States Chamber of Commerce in Washington.

It would help a lot to narrow the gap that now exists between manufacturers and ultimate consumers if the people who buy the products could get a glimpse at the steps involved, the difficulties that must be overcome, the care that must be taken to insure quality.

Industrial executives should welcome any plan that would bring them closer to the people they must sell. If factories are run with a view toward giving the public its money's worth—and most of them are—manufacturers have nothing to hide.

K. O. CAVALIER

BY JERRY BRONDFIELD

COPYRIGHT, 1940.
NEA SERVICE, INC.

YESTERDAY: Val sells Duffy the idea of having Cavalier train on the Northern Belle. They can't afford to cancel and Hansen won't turn back. Besides the publicity will pack the stadium. After they agree, she informs Cavalier that he'll have to work with the crew, but she'll try to get Hansen to give him a little time off.

CHAPTER VI

"OK, you lugs. Hit th' deck!"

Duffy Kelso opened one eye and squinted at the big seaman bellowing into the crew's quarters. Duffy shuddered.

On all sides of him men were getting out of bed but Kelso drew his blankets up closer to his chin.

When he looked up again the big fellow was standing over him, grinning.

"C'mon buttercup. Time to bloom. What do you think you're doin'?"

"Right now," Duffy muttered. "I'm hoping you fall overboard before you're a day older. What's idea getting me up in the middle of the night?"

Next thing Duffy knew the blankets were rudely pulled from his bunk. "It's almost three bells," the seaman roared. "Cap'n Hansen sent some new duffle down for you lugs. Get into it and lay down."

Duffy sat up, groaning again. "Why can't they talk English?" he asked Pop Grimes. "It's like being in a foreign country somewhere, only much worse." He turned to Cavalier. "What time is three bells?"

"Five thirty," Eddie told him.

"How'd you know that?" Kelso inquired suspiciously.

"I read a book once," Eddie said sarcastically. "Big words and all."

A red-headed seaman came in. "Hi'ya boys," he began. "Hi'ya, Duffy. Guess you don't remember me, do ya?"

Duffy looked at him closely and started. "Mike Kelly! Well, I'll be —," he cried, wringing the red-head's hand. Suddenly he drew his hand back. "What th' deuce am I doin' shaking hands with you," he growled. "You're part o' this mob, ain't you?"

Kelly grinned, disregarding Kelso's last remark. "Ain't seen

you since—since that night in the Garden."

"Yeah," Duffy agreed. "As I recall, you lay on th' canvas for 10 minutes after Buddy Jones tagged you."

"That's why I'm here now," Mike said seriously. "And at least I know I'll never be walkin' around on my heels and making funny passes every time a trolley motorman clangs his bell."

Mike nodded toward Eddie Cavalier who was buttoning his blue denim shirt. "I ain't never had th' pleasure o' shakin' hands with th' champ, Duffy. Could y' introduce us?"

Eddie smiled, even before Duffy could voice the ceremonies. "Hello, Mike. I'm not champ yet, though."

"You will be, kid," pumping his hand. "I've seen you go. You can't miss."

"I heard you."

"Why didn't you answer me?"

"Why don't you throw me in the brig for insubordination?"

"It's an idea to toy with," she informed him menacingly. "Maybe you wish you hadn't given birth to it."

He got to his feet then and started working his arms across his chest in circular motion, totally disregarding her. Then he broke into a slow jog around deck. She pattered after him for a few steps.

"Don't forget to report to Captain Hansen when you're through."

He stopped dead. "Scram!" he barked at her so savagely she was stunned to silence. He trotted off again and left her.

Mike raised his hand significantly. "Plenty. Lucky I keep it on hand for me an' th' boys to putter around with. Two sets of eight ounce gloves, a light bag, a pair o' bag gloves and a head guard. Almost made to order, hey Pop?"

"If I didn't know better," Pop muttered, "I'd swear it was a frame."

WITH the exception of those on duty everyone was already seated in the small mess quarters when they entered.

"New hands," Captain Hansen told the crew curiously as they sat down. "Kels, Grimes and Cavalier." Hansen grinned behind his napkin as the boxer sat down across from Val. He looked startled at seeing her.

"Great boy," Mike beamed following Eddie with his eyes. "Clean-cut kid, too. He ain't just another pug with a couple hard fists and a harder head. He's got class, that boy will."

"I fail to see it," she countered. "Begging your pardon, Miss Douglas." Mike said apologetically, "but maybe you're just a little blind if you can't tell th' difference between a guy like Eddie Cavalier and a pug like—well, like me, for instance. That guy's another Gene Tunney. This guy Cavalier even went to college for a couple years. You'll change your mind about him some, you will."

"Paint crew," Duffy muttered. "A Rembrandt she wants to make outta me."

Variety of Cold Zones Provide Safer Storage For All Kinds of Food

Co-ordination of Improvements in New 1940 Refrigerators Bring Economies That Make Them Self-Liquidating Investments

THE automatic refrigerator that the American housewife has long dreamed of as the perfect appliance for her kitchen becomes a reality for her this year with presentation of the new models for 1940 at prices so inviting that the opportunity for every home to bring its kitchen up-to-date probably never will be better.

Scientific tests conducted by refrigeration engineers tend to show, amazingly enough, that the purchase price of the regulate the speed and temperature of her freezing unit.

Combining with this flexibility of cold which is a most important factor in the newly developed economy of the 1940 refrigerators, is the flexibility and convenience of the new shelving arrangements. This new type of shelf planning is what makes it possible to store so much more food in these new models than in previous models, thus enabling the housewife to take better advantage of food bargains.

The new refrigerators—and this is universally true of all lines going on display here in the City Wide exposition opening tomorrow—combine in one and the same appliance all of the several different kinds of cold storage required for the safest and most economical storage of foods, with vastly improved shelving arrangements that considerably increase the normal storage capacity per cubic foot of space over models ever offered before.

Access to food is made more convenient by sliding shelves that won't slip out or let their contents roll out; by means of shelves built into doors, by means of glass-topped hydrators which make it possible for one to see their contents and which also may be used as extra shelves for other foods.

Labeled Compartments

The labeling of special compartments in clearly discernible lettering—the "meat tender" in one line, the "frozen foods" compartment in another; the "food froster" in still a third, add still another note of convenience, while interior lights, temperature gauges, and non-refrigerated storage bins accessible without opening the door of the refrigerator, are other important convenience features.

First of these is the faster freezing ability of the cold making units built into the new models and second is the improved styling, which definitely stamps the 1940 models at one glance as the latest equipment for bringing the kitchen up-to date.

Coordination of these additional features contributes to the economical functioning of the new refrigerators, helping to produce the greatest values in household refrigeration that the industry has ever been able to offer in its history.

Every line on display includes models at modest prices which provide a minimum of the three most important kinds of cold necessary for the best type of household refrigerator that is available.

William Tague was elected president of the newly organized Dixon Typographical union at the meeting last evening.

A home talent aggregation which started out from Dixon Monday and made a stand at Polo Monday were forced to return to this city because of lack of funds.

There is what might be termed the normal food storage compartments where milk, covered foods, eggs, bottled goods and the like are kept.

Moist Cold Zones

And third and most interesting are the new humidified zones or moist cold storage sections where foods of delicate texture and flavor requiring special conditions for the avoidance of spoilage and deterioration, may now be safely kept.

These latter zones frequently are found in quite different sections of the same refrigerator, for the purpose of providing different degrees of humid cold required by different types of foods.

There are for example the meat storage compartments and also the vegetable storage section, and in some instances provision is made for the manual regulation of the humidity in these storage compartments to suit the will of the housewife as simply as she can.

Schraders Will Address Foreign Travelers, Here

Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Schrader, faculty members in Mt. Morris high school will describe their European travels of last summer for members of the Foreign Travel club tomorrow evening at the home of Mrs. S. W. Lehman.

The Schraders, who traveled through France, Germany and Italy, spent most of the time with relatives in southern Germany. They visited and will show moving pictures of Munich, Nuremberg, Salzburg, Innsbruck, Heidelberg, Oberammergau, their Rhine trip through Germany, Venice, Florence, Pisa, Verona, and other points in Italy and France.

Mr. Schrader received a Bachelor of Arts degree from Coe college in Cedar Rapids, and a Master's degree in education at Northwestern university. He has been teaching social science and acting as athletic coach at Mt. Morris for the past nine years. Mrs. Schrader is also a Coe college graduate, and at present is girls' physical education instructor at the Mt. Morris school. Most of their pictures will be in technicolor.

Clubwomen Plan Fifth Book Review

The literature and library extension department of the Dixon Woman's club is announcing its fifth book review of the season for 3:30 p.m. Friday in the Dixon high school music room. Mrs. Gerald Jones, a member of the club, will review "This Side of Glory," Gwen Bristow's story of the battle between the twentieth century south and the old plantation families.

The book presents the love story of a beautiful woman who struggles with herself and her pride to find a real and lasting love. The author was born in South Carolina and attended Judson college in Alabama, a school in which all of the old southern traditions are found.

After spending a year in study at Columbia university, she married Bruce Manning and moved to California, where she began to write about the Louisiana she loves. "Deep Summer," her first novel, met with amazing success, and others have followed.

NEWCOMER WILL ADDRESS D. A. R.

Mrs. Henry Y. Pollock, former curator of the historical museum in LaFayette, Ind. and a recent-comer to Dixon, will address Dixon chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution on Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Grover Gehant, Mrs. A. H. Lancaster, and Miss Loala Quick will entertain at the Gehant home.

FROM CALIFORNIA

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Petersberger returned to Dixon this morning after a winter vacation in California. Mr. Petersberger, who was ill in the west, is somewhat improved.

The couple's son, Elmer, is out from Chicago for a visit with his parents.

George S. Brydia

Republican candidate for re-election to the Illinois General Assembly.

Brydia is recommended by labor, farmers, business, manufacturers.

The Legislative Voters' League says "Brydia has an excellent voting record."

FRANKLIN GROVE COUPLE RENEWS VOWS ON GOLDEN WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

HARRY BENNETT

MRS. HARRY BENNETT

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bennett celebrated their golden wedding anniversary today by renewing their marriage vows in a nuptial ceremony pronounced by the Rev. Walter Easton at historic Lighthouse Methodist church, north of Franklin Grove—in the community where Mrs. Bennett has spent most of her life, except for a few years' residence in Dixon. A large company of relatives and friends, including a daughter and two granddaughters from South Dakota, were present to wish the couple happiness.

The Lighthouse Aid society, headed by Mrs. James Hay, planned the anniversary party. A scramble dinner at 12:30 o'clock was followed by an informal program, arranged in the Bennetts' honor.

It was in the vicinity of Lighthouse church that Dr. John Roe, pioneer physician, staked a claim more than a century ago. Family history has it that the doctor's wife kept a lamp burning in the window at night to guide him home from his calls. The signal also served as a beacon for travelers—and it was from Mrs. Roe's window lamp that the name, Lighthouse, was given to the community.

Mrs. Bennett was formerly Miss Mae Edith Gates, the only daughter of James and Margaret (Worthington) Gates. She was born March 11, 1860, in Taylor township, Ogle county. Her husband, who was 72 years old on Feb. 6, was the eldest son of John W. and Minnie (Smith) Bennett, and was born in Fond du Lac, Wis.

The Bennetts were married at the parsonage of the Methodist church in Dixon, April 3, 1890. The Rev. C. A. Bunker heard their vows.

They went to housekeeping at 508 Jackson avenue—and recall that there were no intervening houses to obstruct a clear view of cadets, who drilled regularly with their wooden guns on the old college campus. Later, they farmed for 30 years south of their present home on rural route 1, Franklin Grove, where they moved about a month ago.

Rag Street Homesteaders

Mrs. Bennett's ancestors were among the early pioneers who traveled by ox-drawn covered wagons from Franklin county, Ohio to settle on homesteads north of Ashton in the Washington Grove community, formerly known as "Rag Street," Chicago, according to the story handed down in Mrs. Bennett's family.

All of the children and grandchildren expected to be present for the celebration today, except one grandson, Earl Hewitt, of California. Mrs. Sam Hewitt and daughter, Dorothy, and Mrs. Fox arrived Monday evening for a week's visit with Mrs. Hewitt's parents.

Mrs. Bennett has one brother, Fred Gates, who resides in the Riverside community. William Bennett of this city and George Bennett of Mt. Morris are brothers of Mr. Bennett, and Mrs. Fred Coxwell of Elmhurst is his sister.

Douglas and Amer Worthington were uncles of Mrs. Bennett, and children of the former now reside at Ashton and Rochelle. The Worthington farm, north of Ashton, has remained in the family ever since the original owner, George Worthington, obtained it by government grant. Mr. and Mrs. Ray Worthington now reside on the farm.

Mr. Bennett's father, a Civil war veteran, came to this country with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bennett, when only one year old. The family crossed the Atlantic on a sailing vessel which required many days for the voyage.

Paid With Cow
Mr. Bennett's grandmother, Mrs. Cornelius Coakley, who also came from England, once made a dozen white, tuckered-hosom shirts for Father John Dixon, and received a cow for her wages. Mr. Coakley helped build the Illinois Central railroad.

When Mr. Bennett's father returned from the Civil war, he became associated with Henry Woodyatt, another early Dixonite, in a saw mill at Fond du Lac. Mr. Woodyatt served as chief of Milledgeville.

The chicken supper which members of Dixon circle, Ladies of the G. A. R., had planned for Saturday evening has been postponed for one week.

ON CAMP STAFF

Mrs. Wendell Schrader, girls' athletic director in Mt. Morris high school, is to serve on the camp staff at the Girls' Athletic Association camp this summer at Camp Cutten, June 9-16. The camp, a leadership training center for members of the G. A. A., is located on Lake Hastings, near Des Plaines.

police in Dixon at an early date.

Helped Build Court House

While Mr. and Mrs. Bennett resided in Dixon, Mr. Bennett worked as a carpenter with W. J. McAlpine, and helped with the construction of the McAlpine home, (now known as the Jones Funeral Home); the Lee county courthouse, the Public library, the Lowden house at Simmissippi Farm, and the first buildings on the Normal school campus at DeKalb.

The couple have three sons and a daughter: Ray, who resides with his parents; Mrs. Sam Hewitt of Brookings, S. D., and Walter and John Bennett of Franklin Grove. There are also ten grandchildren: Earl Hewitt, Atascadero, Calif.; Mrs. Edith Fox, Aurora, S. D.; Dorothy Hewitt, Brookings, S. D.; Don, Ted, Dean, and Audrey Bennett, and Dale, Jeanine and Betty Lou Bennett, Franklin Grove.

All of the children and grandchildren expected to be present for the celebration today, except one grandson, Earl Hewitt, of California. Mrs. Sam Hewitt and daughter, Dorothy, and Mrs. Fox arrived Monday evening for a week's visit with Mrs. Hewitt's parents.

Mrs. Bennett has one brother, Fred Gates, who resides in the Riverside community. William Bennett of this city and George Bennett of Mt. Morris are brothers of Mr. Bennett, and Mrs. Fred Coxwell of Elmhurst is his sister.

Among the guests receiving a special invitation to attend the celebration today was George Washington Ling, 94-year-old Civil war veteran of Franklin Grove, who was a close friend of Mrs. Bennett's parents.

Mr. Bennett has served as a trustee of Lighthouse church ever since the couple moved to the community. He was formerly a member of the official board of the Dixon Methodist church.

Mrs. Overstreet Is Speaker For Phidian Program

A paper of outstanding interest on "Culture, a Medium of Peace," was read by Mrs. Gordon Overstreet yesterday afternoon for members of the Phidian Art club. Mrs. A. F. Moore was entertaining at her home on Brinton avenue.

The paper was a thoughtful presentation of this country's peace with liberty, compared to almost universal loss of liberty in Europe—long considered as the seat of culture. "In twenty years," Mrs. Overstreet said, "eight million people have relinquished liberties requiring centuries to win."

Freedom of speech and the press freedom to criticize and oppose parties in power, and security of person and property which only this nation has been able to maintain throughout its history, cannot be retained, the speaker said, by depending upon the culture of arts or sciences. "We must have a culture of the heart," she believes. "This idea of peace with freedom..."

"This idea of peace with freedom..." Mrs. Overstreet continued, must be a light burning in the heart of every individual, and only by acting as individuals can we reach the heights that are the goals of life, and preserve the fundamental values of this nation".

Mrs. R. M. Ferguson opened the program with an account of a meeting which she attended recently at Fullerton hall in Chicago. The purpose of the meeting, conducted by Daniel Cattan Rich, was to bring about an understanding between art patrons, artists, teachers, and collectors, and to harmonize the claims and rights of modernists and more conservative artists.

Miss Lucia W. Dement reviewed the beginning of modern art in New York, which resulted in separation into two groups. She believes there is a definite wave of art appreciation in this country, due, in part, to special instruction in the public schools.

Mrs. Z. M. Moss and Mrs. S. W. Lehman assisted at the yellow and white refreshment table.

A musicalie, at which Mrs. Charles R. Walgreen and Mrs. George B. Shaw will be co-hostesses, is being planned for April 16 at "Hazelwood".

The games were followed by refreshments, and presentation of wooden gifts to the Sheaffers. Guests were Mrs. Lawrence Schott, Mr. and Mrs. Jay Seavey, the Rev. and Mrs. Main and daughters Arlaean, Virginia Lee and Caroline Jo of Sterling, Ralph and Vadie Shanks, Harold Erwin, and Kathryn Sheaffer, and Arnold Butterbaugh.

A bowl of sweetpeas and juncus trimmed the tea table. Mrs. F. E. Clendenen and Miss Estella Anderson, guests of the club, assisted the hostess in serving.

Mrs. Anna Street will entertain the club on April 16.

CONFUCIUS IS NOT A CHINESE WORD

Rather, the word "Confucius" is the result of Occidental attempts to write and pronounce the name of the famous Chinese philosopher Kung-fu-tze. Given a 2-ounce bran muffin, or the usual cup of coffee... and then an 8-ounce glass of fine beer most people say, "Of course the beer is fattening!" Actually, beer can be brewed to be lower in calories than any of these. So low in fact that an 8-ounce glass contains fewer calories than even a good-sized orange! Such a beer is Sterling... an all-grain brew... one of America's finest beers. NO sugar, or glucose, or fattening syrups are added. It's news like this that brings keener, added pleasure to enjoyment of beer. Be sure to ask for Sterling.

Begin Round-Up Preparations

Presidents of Dixon's Parent-Teacher associations, committee chairmen and committee members met at the South Central school yesterday morning to begin preparations for the annual Summer Round-Up clinic for children of pre-school age. Mrs. Marion Church, school nurse, met with the group, and assisted with plans for making personal calls on the parents of every Dixon child who will enter school for the first time next fall.

We have reason to hope," stated Mrs. Leonard H. Graf, state Summer Round-Up chairman, "as pre-school examinations have become more and more general, that greater numbers of children are entering school for the first time with healthy bodies well-nourished and free from remedial physical defects. Requests for certificates are more numerous this year than ever before, and the majority of schools are planning a real presentation program". Mrs. Graf continues.

The state chairman reminds parents that the unprotected child entering school for the first time is the one most apt to catch any disease which may be introduced. Children of varying degrees of health and resistance have been brought the fresh air and from the British-French efforts to sever German lifelines would increase the hazards to bystander nations. Goering, who made his prediction of a lightning war in the west in a radio address over all German stations, gave no inkling when the blow might come, but said it would compare with Germany's 18-day smashing of Poland.

"Having their rear and flanks secure," he said, "the German armed forces in one firm bloc are facing Britain and France in the west. It is here that the decisive blow must be struck, and for this decisive blow the fuhrer has mobilized all resources".

Outlining the rise of the nazi party, he said "as we won the internal struggle, so we shall certainly win this external fight."

"I personally hold the opinion that the internal struggle, though fought by different methods, was more difficult than our present fight".

See Machine Creaking

German bombing raids, particularly another attack on Scapa Flow last evening, were seen by the British as proof that the German war machine was beginning to creak. The Scapa Flow raiders managed only to injure two civilians, they said, and one German plane was shot down.

The German command confirmed loss of a plane, but said several British ships possibly were damaged. It also reported loss of two German and three allied planes in dog fights over the western front.

Among the nervous neutrals, Norway and Denmark were particularly anxious for fear the tightened allied blockade would bring German reprisals and place the sea war even more squarely at their door.

They noted uneasily the statement of Britain's Prime Minister Chamberlain that "certain practical steps" were being taken to halt German shipping from Scandinavia.

If Roosevelt runs he apparently will get the 94 New York convention votes, although both party delegations were uninstructed.

Dewey is expected to have the bulk of the Republican state, with Frank Gannett, Rochester publisher, getting the remainder.

In the only Republican district contest directly affecting Dewey, delegates opposing him were defeated 6 to 1.

Municipal elections yesterday attracted more than usual interest. Daniel W. Hoan, socialist mayor of Milwaukee since 1916, was defeated by Carl F. Zeidler, 32-year-old attorney.

The old Pendergast Democratic machine in Kansas City was defeated by a fusion ticket, headed by John R. Gage for mayor. Statewide city elections in New Mexico generally provided victories for Democratic forces.

Kansas Republicans will hold their state convention tomorrow to select national delegates.

Bullitt Escapes

In the United States, a congressional proposal to question Ambassador William Bullitt apparently was halted when the state department gave him permission to return today to his post in Paris.

Secretary of State Cordell Hull said Bullitt already had "sufficiently and categorically" denied any imputations in German-published documents which purported to show that various American statesmen favored the allies.

Foreign Undersecretary R. A. Butler told the House of Commons that British policy in the Far East is unchanged and that Britain will continue to recognize the Chungking government of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek despite establishment of the Japanese-created regime headed by Wang Ching-Wei.

Britain's Far Eastern policy, he said, is to "keep in step with the French and American governments".

The band brought the conference to its feet yesterday with its excellent and thorough interpretations of several numbers of traditional American folk and martial music.

And an added treat was in store for Charlene Brown, 17-year-old daughter of the band. She has been invited by Jane Withers, juvenile screen star, to be her guest at a studio party Friday.

Philanthropies of Andrew Carnegie, American capitalist who amassed his fortune in the steel industry, have been computed to be in excess of $360,000,000.

I have attended seven Republican National conventions, and I know how presidents are made. I have spoken for the Republican National committee in the South, Southwest and Middle West, and I know how hard it is to sell a candidate. But I have never known a presidential candidate who possessed the appeal and created enthusiasm among young voters as does Thomas E. Dewey. He is also a favorite with Mr. and Mrs. Average Citizen, and with the older heads who are schooled in politics."

"Everyone likes Dewey," concluded Mrs. Coffman, "and after talking with him, one forgets his youth and realizes that he has talked to a brilliant, conscientious, responsible executive who can win for the Republican party in November."

Chicago Better—

endorsed by many outstanding social, civic and professional leaders throughout the state.

Radio Address

In a radio address last night Blaisdell said in part:

"The Better Government Association is a non-partisan organization but it is deeply interested in the success of the Republican party in Illinois in this year's elections. We believe there can be no decent government in Chicago until we have two strong opposing political parties in this city. At the present time there is only one, and that is the Kelly-Nash-Arvey party. We ordinarily call it the Democratic party. It is compounded of Democrats and of nominally Republican machine politicians. We find all through its workings the similar influence of the so-called syndicate. We are convinced that nothing can be done at this time to clean out and clean up this Democratic organization. A couple of good sound defeats will do wonders for it, and so we are interested at this time in Republicans. If this is real Republican success and not victory for the bi-partisan Republican machine which has been working so efficiently and so profitably with the Kelly-Nash-Arvey gang.

HIDDEN SYNDICATE

"A dominant factor in our Chicago situation is that hidden but very powerful super-government commonly called the Syndicate. It stems back to the old Capone mob and is engaged in various lucrative occupations, all of which must have political protection if they are to operate at all. This group controls syndicate gambling, and just try to open a bookie joint in Chicago unless you pay tribute to the Syndicate. It controls the enormously profitable labor racket where its members have muscled into leadership in various unions. This mob is running wide open in Chicago. The condition is notorious throughout the country. Many of you have read Flynn's exposure of conditions here in his recent Colliers articles. This mob could not stay in business without political protection. It secures that protection through its connection with politicians in both political parties. To keep in power and to get protection, it must control votes, and those wards in which it is most powerful are the very wards in which intimidation, vote buying and vote frauds are most prevalent."

Von Elard Wards

"Let us see how this works out in terms of votes. A year ago, when Green was running for mayor, he had a very small majority, 2,487, in 34 wards of the city of Chicago. The remaining 16 wards of the city, where only 25 per cent of the total vote was cast, rolled up a majority of 186,888 for Kelly, and these 16 wards—and a few others—are the vote fraud wards.

"The Better Government Association has been very active in investigating and running down cases of vote frauds. In recent months we have sent hundreds of them to the County Judge. There has been no time even to hear many of these cases. Many of them have gone to the Grand Jury. Because of what we have learned about vote frauds in these 16 wards—and in some others—I say to you tonight that there is no certainty that Ed Kelly was actually elected Mayor of Chicago last April. x x x

"Let us call the roll of the worst of these wards, and see who is responsible.

Calls the Roll

"The First ward, Dan Serritella, Republican ward committeeman, reputed associate of Al Capone, elected in 1938 to the state senate on the Republican ticket in a Democratic ward, without Democratic opposition. The second worst ward in the city for vote frauds.

"The 11th ward, Bill Finucane, Republican ward committeeman,

Dr. Pettit For Alternate Delegate

Dr. H. L. Pettitt of Morrison, chairman of the Whiteside County Republican committee, is a candidate for alternate delegate to the National Republican nominating convention in Philadelphia, and he is deserving of the support of every Republican, not alone in Whiteside county, but in every county throughout the 13th congressional district, which is composed of Whiteside Lee, Ogle, Carroll, Jo Daviess and Stephenson.

Dr. Pettitt has been an untiring worker for the party, has made many excellent speeches upholding the principles of Republicanism and the traditions of the United States, and his record as a loyal American stands out as an example to everybody in the community. Dr. Pettitt's friends feel that he is entitled to this honor and that he will well represent our district at the national convention.

Therefore we urge every Republican in Whiteside county and the rest of the district to vote in the primary April 9 and to cast their ballot for Dr. H. L. Pettitt for alternate delegate to the Republican national convention. — Whiteside Sentinel, Morrison, March 25.

The children pictured above are enrolled in the Nursery school, and had just returned to the South Central grade school, when they caught the attention of a Telegraph photographer. The tots, ranging in age from two to five years, had made their first visit of the season to a nearby playground to see if the swings were in place. Top row, (left to right)—Mrs. Dorothy Frost, head teacher; Sylvia Henson, Junior Sofolo, Carol Walls, Eddie Burke, Marilyn Walls, Judy Hoyle, Shirley Vurnich, and Joan Maronde, students; and the Misses Zita Bradley and Madelyn Huggins, Mrs. Frost's assistants. Lower row, (left to right) Norma Jean Tate, Patricia Brown, Vercole Brown, Joanne Faley, Paul Timmons, Kay Vurnich, Evelyn Jenkins, Karen Maronde, Judy Kay Shelton, and Anna Mae Sofolo. Three other members of the staff, Mrs. Josette Infeld, cook; Miss Nora Jones, laundress; and James Gallagher, janitor, were not present for the picture.

Fast Service on Commercial Engravings

The relocation of the Midwest Engravers in the Telegraph building will now afford fast service on commercial engraving for outside firms and individuals. Anyone interested in securing zinc or copper half-tones, together with coarse screen etchings or line cuts is urged to give this firm a trial.

Chicken Supper

The Aid society of the Presbyterian church will serve their annual chicken and noodle supper in the church basement Saturday evening, April 6. Serving will begin at 5:30. The menu will be chicken noodles, mashed potatoes, gravy, creamed peas, molded salad, jelly, pickles, buns, coffee, and assorted pies. This is nearly the last supper before election. It surely is a good time and place for the many candidates to greet the voters of this community.

Dance a Success

The high school athletic department sponsored the annual dance Friday night at the gym. The local alumni orchestra furnished the music. This dance is an attempt to offset a few of the financial necessities for the school athletic program, and to develop good will and a period of entertainment. The department cleared several dollars.

Miscellaneous Shower

A shower was held Saturday at the home of Walter Gilbert for Mrs. Gilbert, a bride of a few weeks. The afternoon was spent in playing various games and enjoying the refreshments. Those present were: Mrs. Paul Gilbert and daughter Donna Maude, Mrs. William Bremer, Mrs. John Schier, Clarence Reitz, Mrs. J. W. Jacobs and daughter Bertha, Mrs. Wilbur Hartzell, Mrs. Perry Myers, Mrs. Stanley Kuhn, Mrs. Ralph Balhouse, Mrs. Harold Hill, Mrs. Fred Rolph, Mrs. John Bennett and daughter, Mrs. Ed Kersten, Mrs. Harry Edgington, Mrs. Herman Greenfield and daughter Evelyn, Mrs. S. FANFARE

By DON DANIELSON.

NOTES ON A TABLE CLOTH

Ted Scheid, introducing A. C. Bowers last night at the "S" club banquet at Sterling jokingly called him "public enemy No. 1 during certain seasons" . . . Nile Kinnick was Bob Feller's first catcher when the Iowa schoolboy first was gaining notice that led him to Cleveland's Indians . . . telling of incidents that keep the size of the hat band down, Nile Kinnick told that when introduced at New York to a Delaware heiress she chirped, "Oh, you're from the same school as that great All-American football player, aren't you?" . . . Another of Kinnick's stories was the report that after the victory over Minnesota, the alumni in northern Iowa, long humiliated by Minnesota's victories, erected a roadway sign which read: "Iowa 13; Minnesota 3 miles north." One grad, said Kinnick, remarked: "If I die tomorrow, I will be glad I lived through the Notre Dame, Indiana, Purdue and Minnesota games."

SEASON WINDUP

The members of the Knacks basketball team and their sponsor and coach were entertained last night at the home of Business Manager Bert Cummings. Among those who enjoyed the event were Paul Potts, Walter C. Knack, Roland Ulrich, Al Boyd, Gene McNamara, Bob Underwood, Sammy Bellows, Louie Bevilacqua, Earl Flanagan and Charles Roundy.

LOSE SECOND STRAIGHT

The Northern Illinois Teachers of DeKalb faced Louisiana Tech today in the first of a two-game baseball series. The Teachers lost their second straight game yesterday to the University of Mississippi, 6 to 5. The Southerners took both games with ninth-inning rallies. The DeKalb team will play six games in the south before returning home. Local interest in the Teachers' welfare is established by Russell Bush of Dixon and Ollie Krahembuhl of Rochelle who are traveling as members of the team.

IT'S TRACK WEATHER—AT LAST

The milder temperatures and the nearness of the first track meet has sent Coaches A. C. Bowers and Marvin Winger scurrying outdoors with their thimbles. Dixon's first meet will be a dual affair here with the Rochelle cinderne April 25.

"MEXICAN MAULER" HERE SOON

Cruz Torres, known as the "Mexican Mauler," will meet Otis Kid, a Rockford Golden Gloves champion, in one of the feature bouts on the card to be presented here at the high school auditorium April 16. Torres and Kid will meet in the 175 pound division. The "Mauler" was born in Kansas City and is only 19 years old, standing five feet eleven inches. He has been boxing one year and in that time won the Chicago Park District 175-pounds title last summer. His ambition is to be a professional boxing champion and he has already started his career with 18 victories in 21 bouts. As a member of the Catholic Youth Organization team Torres is only one of seven top-knotch leatherpushers who will fight here under the auspices of the Sterling and Dixon Councils of the Knights of Columbus as a benefit for Catholic Charities.

BASEBALL RUMORS

There is talk of organizing a hardball team at Amboy this season to join in the membership of the Illinois State League. Shabbona has also been considering the formation of a participating club. The first meeting of the league managers is scheduled to be held soon at Mendota where the season's schedules will be worked out.

PROSPECTIVE BALL GAMES

Included in the prospective games for the Knacks ball team this season are tentatives dates for a night game at Kewanee and an engagement with the prison team at Stateville. The Knacks may also meet a Negro team in Dixon as part of the city's Fourth of July celebration. The Davenport Maroons have also been seeking to schedule the Knacks in a two-game series. The Maroons hope to play here some Sunday in May and to engage the Knacks at Davenport on a later Sunday night. The Maroons have one of the best teams in this area and last year won 16 games and lost six.

HEAR ANDERSON AND KINNICK

Among those from Dixon who attended the "S" club banquet at Sterling last night and heard Coach Eddie Anderson and Nile Kinnick of the University of Iowa were: A. C. Bowers, Dr. David Murphy (a former classmate of Coach Anderson), Gundersen Torstenson (an Iowa alumnus), Gerald Jones, Sam Brock and Willard Jones.

ROUTE 72 CONFERENCE BANQUET

The Route 72 conference basketball banquet to be held at Franklin Grove will be held Tuesday, April 16, instead of on April 15, as was previously announced. Fred Parker, former coach at Mt. Morris college and now in the sporting goods business in Rockford, will be the speaker. Parker is well known in Dixon and the Route 72 area as an excellent banquet guest. Niel A. Fox, superintendent of the Franklin Grove high school and president of the conference, is the chairman of the affair.

SOFTBALL MEETING TONIGHT

The managers of the 12 softball teams to comprise the Dixon league are urged to attend the important meeting tonight at 8 o'clock at The Telegraph offices.

GOOD LUCK, LOUIE

Louie Bevilacqua left this morning to fulfill his obligations under the contract to pitch for the Deland, Fla., baseball team, a member of the Florida State League. Dixon fans who have watched young Bevilacqua's career with interest join in wishing him the good luck he deserves in his first step up the ladder.

DON'T FORGET SPINNERS

By Cal Johnson

In early spring fishing the water is almost always muddy because the melting snows and the spring rains carry a great deal of dirt and other material from the shores of the waters into them. This means that the actual visibility for fish is decidedly lessened over the times when the waters are more clear.

I have found that by using silver spinners or bright gold or copper lures that I get much better results in muddy water. The flash that they give seems to go through the water and strike the eyes of fish in an attractive way and when the hungry fish see movement in the spring they go places.

Fish have fed little during the winter months and if they can see anything that looks like food will head for it at top speed. Give them something with a flash and sparkle, something that they can see farther than they can an ordinary bait.

Use plugs that have a nickle or silver finish and you will find that they will get better results. Also when you are fishing with live bait, and the spring is the time of year when live bait is most effective, put a small spinner or several spinners above the live bait and you will be surprised at the difference that they will make.

For a test, cast out a plug of bait which has no metal flash to it and see how difficult it is to follow the course it takes through the muddy water. Then cast out that same colored lure with a spinner in front of it and see what a difference the spinner makes.

Take a frog or minnow and cast it out. The chances are that you won't see it as it comes in until it is almost up to the boat. Put a spinner ahead of it and the gleam will hit your eye from a much greater distance. What is true of your sight must be true of the fish.

Even in still fishing with minnows or worms, I have found that a bright, flashy spinner will get me more fish. I jiggle the lure up and down and the fish come flocking at it. If I just give the minnow a bath without benefit of accessories, I often sit for hours without getting a strike, and that is no fun after the long winter months when there was no fishing.

Anything colorful or flashy will add to your catches. Try something as suggested above and see for yourselves.

IOWA COACH AND STAR SPEAK AT STERLING EVENT

Coach Eddie Anderson and Nile Kinnick Survey 1939 Grid Season

It was the "event of the year" at Sterling last night where "the coach of the year" and "the play-

Russell Snowberger of Detroit drove his four-cylinder, front-drive car 100 miles around the two-and-a-half mile brick-and-asphalt track yesterday, doing one lap at 115 miles an hour.

T. E. (Pop) Myers, vice-president and general manager of the Speedway Corporation, said it was the earliest practice spin in 20 years. But he predicted warm weather would bring out more drivers soon.

"There are already many cars in the garages along gasoline alley," Myers said, "and it wouldn't surprise me to see things hummin' here in another week."

Snowberger, who hit an estimated 152 miles an hour on the "burn" for the twenty-eighth running of the yearly motor classic next Memorial Day.

"The track feels lightning fast, although it's pretty dry," he said. "I expect that it will take from 121 to 133 miles an hour to qualify."

Snowberger Tries Car For Memorial Day Speed Event

Indianapolis, April 3—(AP)—Practice for the annual 500-mile automobile race on the Indianapolis Motor Speedway is off to its earliest start since post-war days.

Russell Snowberger of Detroit drove his four-cylinder, front-drive car 100 miles around the two-and-a-half mile brick-and-asphalt track yesterday, doing one lap at 115 miles an hour.

T. E. (Pop) Myers, vice-president and general manager of the Speedway Corporation, said it was the earliest practice spin in 20 years. But he predicted warm weather would bring out more drivers soon.

"There are already many cars in the garages along gasoline alley," Myers said, "and it wouldn't surprise me to see things hummin' here in another week."

Snowberger, who hit an estimated 152 miles an hour on the "burn" for the twenty-eighth running of the yearly motor classic next Memorial Day.

"The track feels lightning fast, although it's pretty dry," he said. "I expect that it will take from 121 to 133 miles an hour to qualify."

Best Speed in 1938

The slowest of the 33 cars in last year's race qualified with a 10-mile run at 116.527 miles an hour. The late Floyd Roberts made the best speed in a race when he won the 1938 event at 117.200 miles an hour.

Snowberger, a race driver 18 years, has finished the 500-mile race in the money five times—placing fifth in 1931 and 1932 and eighth in 1933, 1933 and 1934. He started racing here in 1927.

He qualified at 124.191 miles an hour last year but motor trouble forced him out of the 500-mile grueling after 125 miles.

Snowberger has brought back the same car with a new motor of 260-cubic-inch piston displacement. With him is his veteran mechanic, Eddie Metzler.

"Dr. Anderson," Kinnick said, "brought more prestige to Iowa and himself than he could have done anywhere else after critics had said that he was coming to the graveyard of coaches."

Review of Season

"The Indiana-Iowa game," the great halfback said, "gave us confidence x x x. The loss to Michigan did us a lot of good and we discovered our weaknesses to learn that we must play every minute of the 60 in a game. The coaching staff revived us after that defeat and the Wisconsin game was regarded as the turning point of our schedule x x x. The Purdie game MADE the season and the team dominated the rivals x x x. In the game with Notre Dame we out-Notre Dame Notre Dame by playing their own type of game x x x. The Purdie game MADE the season and the team dominated the rivals x x x. In the game with Notre Dame we out-Notre Dame Notre Dame by playing their own type of game x x x. THE game of the season was the victory over Minnesota, a team to which the Hawkeyes had lost for many years." Of the Northwestern 7 to 7 the Kinnick said: "It was a fair ball game and we were fortunate in getting the tie score."

The Iowa star congratulated the members of the "S" club being honored at the banquet and gave encouragement to those who fill the shoes of a scrub team.

Dr. Eddie Anderson, a coach who came out from Holy Cross to build the Iron Men in one short year, praised the poise of his team which he said was the best of any squad he had ever seen. "It finally wore down the opponents," he said, "and finally got their

"AOS" to hear this week-end.

Bisbee, Ariz.—That age-old debate about whether Ty Cobb or Hans Wagner was the greater baseball player came to life again at a luncheon here yesterday. Connie Mack of the Philadelphia A's told the gathering that all of the players he had seen none equaled his.

To prove it, the Wolverine 200-yard relay team broke the pool record at Columbia University last night in the school's annual water carnival.

The won and lost column doesn't always show the work of a coach," he asserted.

The War Today—

doubt that the battle is getting hot.

Actually, come what may, this clash without gunfire likely is the crucial engagement of the war — far more deadly and devastating than a bombardment from great guns.

It will determine ultimately whether the Anglo-French allies can garrote Herr Hitler with their economic blockade, or whether he can turn out of the strangle-hold and make a counter-attack in kind.

Goering didn't say when his leader intends to strike with his military arms to "end the war." But we can take it for granted. I believe, that Hitler will make the effort if and when he sees that there is no escape from slow death in the blockade. Pending that moment he will try to meet the allies on their own economic grounds.

The aim of the belligerents is to win the neutrals by pressure, profit or promise of security — for these nations possess either highly-desirable supplies or afford some strategic advantage which the warring nations covet. And the smaller nations, seeing the conflict growing fiercer and more dangerous for them, are scurrying for shelter in what looks like the safest spot.

Thus what we are seeing in this really remarkable development is a general realignment of affiliations between the belligerent powers and other European nations. For the little fellow it is an anxious moment. It behoves him to pick the winning side, for he may not have another choice.

If you can visualize this fierce struggle, waged with the weapon of economic strangulation, it will afford more stark drama than a dozen raging fields of military battle.

Chamberlain's announcement, which brought both followers and opposition in Commons to their feet to applaud, involved trade pacts with Norway, Sweden, Iceland, Belgium, the Netherlands and Denmark. These agreements provide for rigid limitation of exports to the reich.

The point of this is—and it is of vital importance—that neutrals have been importing huge quantities of supplies and goods from abroad and re-exporting them to Germany. This represented a vast "leak" in the allied blockade.

Britain also has trade discussions under way with Switzerland and Spain. The economic battle in the Balkans is particularly fierce, for Hitler has been depending greatly on this area for supplies, and the allies have made heavy inroads on his preserves.

Where no other method will avail, the allies are purchasing supplies with gold in order to keep them away from Hitler. An example is the taking over by Britain of Norway's entire exportable surplus of whale oil.

The positions of both Russia and Italy are of vast moment both to the allies and Germany. Hitler has been straining every nerve to win their full support, and the Anglo-French brotherhood is just now getting busy.

France is said to want to use the iron-hand on the Bolsheviks as virtual allies of Germany, but Britain is understood to feel that the soviet can be kept from closer cooperation with the nazis. Many observers expect that England and France will try to win Italy wholly away from Germany, the French perhaps taking the lead.

At this writing neither Rome nor Moscow is showing much warmth toward nazism.

New York City Transit Workers Not to Strike

New York, April 3—(AP)—Settlement of a controversy between New York City and 27,000 transit workers removed today the possibility of a strike of two subway lines soon to become municipal property.

John L. Lewis, C. I. O. chief, announced late yesterday that the strike, threatened for several days, was definitely off, and Mayor F. H. LaGuardia expressed belief that all disputed matters had been clarified.

The city's statement of policy under the planned unification, as interpreted by the mayor, was accepted by the transport workers union, which has contracts covering the two affected lines—the I. R. T. and the B. M. T.

The mayor had recommended to the Board of Transportation that all terms of the existing contract "not inconsistent with constitutional or statutory provisions" be assumed by the city and that disputes be settled in the courts.

During 1939, "TACA" (Transportes Aereos Centro Americanos) carried over 15,000,000 pounds of air freight at a profit without a bit of governmental subsidy. Also 25,000 passengers were carried during the year.

It is estimated that 450,000 housing units were constructed in the United States in 1939.

Few Women Seek Office in Next Tuesday's Polls

Chicago, April 3—(AP)—Suffragettes — remember them — fought hard a generation ago for the right to vote and the privilege of running for public office.

Women voters are a common-place today, but women seeking office are conspicuous by their parity.

Voters at next week's primary election will find 69 names on the general state ballots — offices for which the entire state votes — on the Democratic ticket and 49 on the Republicans.

The point of this is—and it is of economic strangulation, it will afford more stark drama than a dozen raging fields of military battle.
